

The Isa Diederiks-Verschoor Award 2001

In 1998 the Board of Editors of Air & Space Law decided to create an annual award for legal essays on air and/or space law, to be named after one of the former Board Members and currently a Member of the Air & Space Law Advisory Board, Isa Diederiks-Verschoor.

The Isa Diederiks-Verschoor award is open to applicants up to the age of 30 who are active in the field of air or space law. Every year a jury is formed of the Members of the Board of Editors of Air & Space Law.

The prize is awarded in close cooperation with the ISA, the International Society for Air and space law. ISA is a Dutch foundation, established in 1998, and has as one of its goals to promote knowledge, research and the exchange of experiences in the field of air and space law. One of the means to reaching that goal is an annual scientific meeting at which the Isa Diederiks-Verschoor award is presented.

The first Isa Diederiks-Verschoor award was presented to Mr Yun Zhao for his essay 'The Commercial Use of Telecommunications under the Framework of GATS' and was published in AIR & Space LAW XXIV No. 6.

The award consists of a year's subscription to Air & Space Law and USD 1000,- worth of books from Kluwer Law International's air and space law list, to be selected by the winner.

If you would like to participate in the contest for the Isa Diederiks-Verschoor award 2001, the deadline for contributions is 1 August 2001. Contributions can be sent to Ms Ingeborg van der Laan, Kluwer Law International, P.O. Box 85889, 2508 CN The Hague, The Netherlands.
