

Subject Index

B

Belgian case note, A Belgian Perspective on the Judgments of the French
Cour de Cassation of 17 May 2013, 261–282

absence and disappearance of the cause, 274–277
application to the annotated judgments, 276–277 no dissolution due to the absence of
cause, 275–276
Nullity Due to the absence of a cause, 274–275

Cour de Cassation, 262

dissolution of contract due to the loss of its object, 272–274 application to the annotated
judgments, 274
termination of the purchase of the leased assets, 272–274

interdependence, 263–277 absence and disappearance, cause, 274–277

annotated case, 271–272 civil tribunal of Antwerp, 266 between contracts, 265
Court of Appeal of Liège, 266 dissolution of contract, 272–274 indivisibilité/ondeelbaarheid, 267 information system, 266 information technology (IT), 265 linked contracts in the Consumer

Credit Act, 263–265 second contract, 267 synallagmatic obligations from separate contracts, 269–271

location financière, 261

Non-profit organization (NPO), 262–263

separation clauses, 277–281 annotated judgments, 281 leasing contracts, 279–281 limitations, 278–279

validity, 277–278

Belgian law, 961–970

absence of legal justification, 964–967 application of non-competition clause, 966–967 benefit voluntarily, 964–965 enriched defendant and impoverished claimant, 965 franchise contract, 966 lease of real property, 965–966 mobile phone contracts, 966 unjustified enrichment, 964–965

Cour de Cassation on 23 October 2012, 961–970

enrichment of the defendant, 962–964 expense of the claimant, 962
franchise contract, 963
legal scholars, 963
SFR, 963–964
termination of franchise contract, 962–963
unjustified enrichment, 962
subsidiary nature of unjustified enrichment action, 967–970
Book X of the new Code of Economic Law, 967–970 franchise contracts, 967 general view, 967
loss of clientele, 967

Belgium, 93–100

C

Cellcorps v. ETE case, 1039–1053 agents and franchisees, 1049–1053 commercial agent, 1051

Dutch Civil Code, 1049–1050
Dutch Supreme Court, 1052
European Civil Code, 1052

Dutch law, 1040

provisional conclusion, 1048–1049 subsidiarity of enrichment action,
1041–1048

Dutch Civil Code, 1042–1044

- historical and comparative
  - resistance, 1041–1042
  - lethal blow, 1047
  - limited significance of the notion of
    - subsidiarity, 1045–1046
  - remedy for unjust enrichment, 1048
  - reticent attitude, 1044–1045
  - unjustified enrichment, 1039, 1040
- Cherry-picking vultures and other speculations, 813–814
- Citizen in European private law, 469–479
- choice and regulatory competition, 469–472
  - commentary, 470
  - costs, 472
  - and forum, 469
  - ‘product rules’, 471
  - ‘push-factors’, 470
- norm-setting and enforcement I, 472–476
  - alternative dispute resolution (ADR), 474, 475
  - commentary, 476
  - mediation in company law, 475
  - self-regulation, 473
  - substantive consumer law, 472
- norm-setting and enforcement II, 476–478
- Commission on European Family Law (CEFL), 157–164
  - comparative research method, 157
  - non-formalized relationships, 162
  - property relations between spouses, 158–162
  - transnational marriage and parentage, 163
  - workshops, 163–164
- Conformity of goods, the network
  - society and the ethical consumer, 619–640
- Charter of the Fundamental Rights of the EU, 620–621
- conformity: from promise to expectation, 631–634
- Article 1641 of the Civil Code, 631
- buyer’s expectation, 633
- Common European Sales Law (CESL), 633–634
  - consumer’s expectation, 633
- English common law, 631–632
- law of sales, 631
- satisfactory quality, 633
- seller’s obligations to supply goods, 632
- seller’s promise, 632–633
- seller to deliver goods, 631
- strict liability, 631
- UK law, 633
- expectations of process, 634–638
  - CESL, 634
  - expectation of quality, 637–638
  - pre-contractual statements, 635–637
- Fair Trade, 628–629
- General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) rules, 627–628
- human rights and environment, 622–623
- International division of labour in networks, 623–626
- International Labour Organization (ILO) standard, 625, 627
- International law, 627
- modern law of contract, 621–622
- network society, 628
- principle of equality/equal opportunity, 621
- production systems, 622
- regulating production networks, 639–640
- regulatory alternatives, 627–630
- Social Justice in European Contract Law, 620
- total quality management (TQM), 625–626
- World Trade Organisation (WTO)
  - panel, 627–628
- Consent in licenses of personality rights, 345–370
  - express consent, 347–349

- oral consent, 349
  - written consent, 348–349
- in-depth comparative analysis, 347
- law of obligations, 356–359
  - absence of incompatibility, 358–359
  - denial of right of withdrawal, 357–358
- legislative recognition, 361
- protection of consent, 346
- public interest, 346
- revocability of consent, 360
- right of withdrawal, 355–369
  - circumstances, 364–366
  - compensation, 367–369
  - definition, 355–356
  - law of obligations, 356–359
  - license agreement, 361–364
  - personality rights, 360–361
  - and time, 366–367
- tacit consent, 349–355
  - circumstances, 351–352
  - criticism, 353–355
  - difference with mere silence, 349
  - limited recognition of, 350
  - scope, 352–353
- Consumer Interest and Data Protection
  - under EU Competition Law, 485–511
  - Article 101(3) TFEU, 504
  - CJEU, 492, 504, 505
  - collusive behaviour, 493
  - communication of information, 491
  - competition law and consumer law, 487
  - credit bureau industry social functions, 511
  - and data protection, 506–510
    - commercial entities, 509
    - data minimization, 507–508
    - fundamental rights of individuals, 506
    - informational self-determination, 510
    - information processing and technologies, 509
    - personal financial data, 507
  - economic and legal assumptions, 500–503
  - economic theory, 490
  - European case law and Commission's practice, 494
  - European consumer law, 506
  - exchange of consumer information in financial markets, 487–490
    - credit-risk assessment and management, 488
    - information monopoly, 490
    - mortgage and consumer credit markets, 487
    - symmetric information and adverse selection, 489
  - interpretation of judiciary and policymakers, 511
  - judiciary and policymakers, 505–506
  - legitimacy/illegitimacy of information exchanges, 486
  - market efficiency, 486
  - pro-competitive effects of information exchanges, 498–499
  - and responsible lending, 503–504
  - and the retail financial sector, 494–498
    - Asnef Equifax v. Ausbanc*, 496
    - European consumer credit market, 495
    - financial and non-financial entities, 495
    - horizontal co-operation agreements, 498
    - pro-competitive effect, 494
- Consumer in the European conflict of laws, 513–544
  - Brussels I Regulation (BIR), 516–517
  - Brussels Regulation on jurisdiction, 514
  - commercial activities, 543
  - consumer protection, 519–524, 534–544
    - Brussels I Regulation (BIR), 519–520
    - consumer's habitual residence, 540

- discrepancies between the provisions, 522–524
- policy and systemic issues, 534–544
- Rome I Regulation (RIR), 520–522
- de lege ferenda*, 544
- effects of judgments, 530–534
  - distance communication contacts, 531
  - ECJ judgment, 533
  - protective rules, 530
- Emrek v. Sabranovic*, 528–529
- expansion of relevant consumer contracts by ECJ, 525–528
  - Mühlleitner v. Yusufi*, 525–526
  - Pammer and Hotel Alpenhof, 526–528
- home jurisdiction and law, 514
- judicial activity, 513
- Mühlleitner v. Yusufi* and Emrek v. Sabranovic, 542
- policy and systemic issues, 534–544
  - historical overview, 534–536
  - interests involved, 540–542
  - reduction of connecting factors to evidence, 537–539
  - rule-exception relationship, 539–540
  - uniform interpretation, 537
- reduction of connecting factors to evidence, 537–539
- Rome I Regulation (RIR), 517–519
- Rome Regulation on contractual obligations, 514
- Contract and unjust enrichment law, 1005–1028
- centrality of interpreting the
  - individual contract, 1018–1023
  - applying, scenario, 1022–1023
  - implying contract terms, 1019–1020
  - liberal Australian approaches, 1020–1022
- damages in contract and disgorgement, 1026–1027
- Deane J.’s statement, 1010
- discharged contracts and restitution, 1010–1011
- elements of a claim in unjust enrichment, 1008
- Franchises in Ireland and United Kingdom, 1006–1008
- no restitution where the contract is in force, 1008–1010
- possible gaps in the bargain, 1016
- problem of indirect enrichment, 1023–1025
  - customer and defendant, 1024–1025
  - features, 1024
  - ‘movement of wealth’, 1023
  - subtractive enrichment, 1023
- reasons to refuse concurrent liability, 1012–1015
  - criterion of inconsistency, 1015
  - need to avoid circularity, 1015
  - sanctity of contract, 1012–1014
- rule of non-concurrence, 1012
- termination and restoring performance, 1016–1018
- Trident Beauty*, 1009
- United Kingdom and Ireland, 1005
- unjust factor, 1025–1026
- Contracts contrary to public policy, 703–727
  - comparative remarks, 724–726
  - concept of illegality, 726
  - contracts in restraint of marriage, 718–724
    - Dutch Law, 722–724
    - English Law, 718–721
  - Dutch Law, 716–718, 722–724
    - anti-contrariety to public policy, 717, 723–724
    - pro-contrariety to public policy, 717, 718, 723
    - public policy and good morals, 708–711
  - English Law, 714–716, 718–721
    - anti-contrariety to public policy, 715–716, 720–721

- pro-contrariety to public policy, 714–715, 720–721
  - public policy and good morals, 706–708
- and good morals, 706–711
  - Dutch Law, 708–711
  - English Law, 706–708
  - remarks, 711
- harmonization of national contract laws, 705
- identifying convergences and divergences, 711–713
  - contracts affecting matrimony, 711–712
  - the principle policy clarification methodology, 712–713
- marriage brokerage contracts, 714–718
  - Dutch Law, 716–718
  - English Law, 714–716
- the principle policy clarification methodology, 714–724
  - contracts in restraint of marriage, 718–724
  - marriage brokerage contracts, 714–718
- public interests, 704
- types of contracts, 705
- validity and invalidity, 704, 726
- Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU) on Trial, 729–767
  - access justice, 766
  - de facto* inferior, 766
  - economically active migrants and education, 749–751
  - economic freedoms, 754–765
    - and fundamental human rights, 757–765
    - and social justice in education across Europe, 754–757
  - education, 748–757
    - and economically active migrants, 749–751
    - economic freedoms and social justice in education across Europe, 754–757
    - and non-economically active migrants, 751–754
  - existential crisis in EU, 731–734
    - constitutional moments, 731
    - contractual autonomy and economic mobility, 733
    - economic rights, 734
    - European socio-economic regime, 732
    - financial and economic crisis, 731
    - original legitimation, 731–732
  - fundamental human rights and economic freedoms, 757–765
    - Article 6 TEU, 757
    - Charter of Fundamental Rights (CFR), 757
    - general principles in 1969, 757
    - interference with economic mobility, 757–765
  - health care, 738–748
    - economic freedoms and social justice in health care across Europe, 745–748
    - free movement of services and patient mobility, 739–740
    - normative preference and contractual autonomy, 739
    - positive and negative obligation, 739
    - the right to reimbursement for treatment abroad out of medical need, 740–744
    - the right to reimbursement for treatment received abroad out of choice, 744–745
  - interference with economic mobility, 757–765
    - infringes fundamental rights, 758
    - reliance on fundamental rights, 758–765
  - non-economically active migrants, 751–754
    - access to related financial assistance, 753–754
    - access to tertiary education, 752–753

- contractual autonomy, 751–752
- internal market serves, 752
- private law society, 734–738
- social justice, 734–738
  - individual-centred approach, 735–736
  - ordo-liberal society, 736–737
  - and private law society, 736–738
  - proportionate balance, 736
  - State intervention, 737
- state and powerful non-state actor
  - interference, 765
- Croatia and European Private Law, 313–315
  - contract law, 314
  - German law, 315
  - Hague University of Applied Sciences, 313
  - lex plusquam specialissima*, 314

D

- Das deutsche Modellgesetz für Geistiges Eigentum (GGE)-Wissenschaftlicher und gesetzgeberischer Bedarf auch für die Europäische Union, 943–953
- DCFR perspective, 1055–1063
  - impact of Book IV.E, 1059–1062
    - indemnity for goodwill, 1060–1062
    - pre-contractual information duty, 1059
    - termination by notice, 1059–1060
  - policy confusion, 1062–1063
  - redress under contract law, 1058–1062
    - good faith and fair dealing, 1058
    - impact of Book IV.E, 1059–1062
  - unjustified enrichment under Book VII, 1055–1058
    - goodwill: improvement of an asset, 1057–1058
    - justification: the primacy of contract, 1055–1057
- Dutch case note, L'interdépendance contractuelle in Dutch Law, 283–291

- group of contracts, 283
- interdépendance, 284–290
  - consumer/professional party, 287–289
  - general, 284–287
  - legal consequences, 289–290
- partnership, 283
- separation clause, 284, 290–291
- Dutch Supreme Court Decision, Hammock, 143–152
  - the judgment of the Hoge Raad, 150–151
  - the judgment of the Rechtbank's-Hertogenbosch, 147–148
- liability for persons and things, 144–147
- proceedings before the court of cassation, 148–149
- strict liability, 151

E

- Early termination of consumer contracts, 545–558
  - consumer reactions in Estonia and in Norway, 556–558
  - consumer's liability, 551–555
    - Estonia, 551–554
    - Norway, 554–555
  - contractual liability of the consumer, 546
  - leasing contracts and legal framework, 547–551
    - Estonia, 547–549
    - Norway, 549–551
- EC disability regulation, 769–786
  - autonomous interpretation, 773–774
  - CJEU, 785–786
  - enacting legislation, 785
  - European Passenger Regulations, 779–781
    - Regulation (EC) No. 261/2004, 780
    - Regulation (EC) No. 889/2002, 780
    - Regulation (EC) No. 2111/2005, 780–781
  - exclusivity doctrine, 774–781
    - Article 29–basis of claims, 775

- Article 29 of the Montreal Convention, 776
- Articles 17 and 19 Montreal Convention, 775–776
- autonomous interpretation, 777
- Babel-like confusion, 778
- contradicting references, 777
- drafting history, 779
- Dutch Civil Code, 778–779
- and European Passenger Regulations, 779–781
- Henri De Vos, 777
- non-exhaustive system, 778
- Sir Alfred Dennis, 778
- UK Supreme Court, 777
- US Supreme Court, 776–777
- Warsaw Convention, 777
- International Treaties and Secondary European Law, 781–785
  - CJEU, 781, 783
  - IATA and ELFAA*, 782–783
  - Montreal Convention, 781
  - Nelson and TUI Travel* decision, 783
  - Regulation (EC) No. 261/2004, 781–782, 784
  - Regulation (EC) No. 1107/2006, 784
  - Sturgeon* case, 783
  - UK disability regulations, 784, 785
- the Montreal Convention 1999, 771–773
  - and European Union, 771–772
  - National Legal Order, 772–773
- Predicament of Mr Stott, 770–771
- private law relationships, 769
- Stott v. Thomas Cook Tour Operators Ltd*, 769–786
- Electronic markets and digital communities, 685–702
  - abuse of rights, public policy and competition law, 699–702
  - commercial transactions and social interaction in digital space, 687–690
  - market of markets and community of communities, 687–690
  - membership conditions, eligibility and registering process, 696–699
  - membership, right of admission and refusal to deal, 699–702
  - social and economic activities, 690–696
    - community-based environment, 691–692
    - digital economy functioning, 691
    - from disintermediation to reintermediation, 694–696
    - hybrids organizational models, 691
    - markets and hierarchies, 691
    - operators as intermediaries, 692–694
    - three layers of electronic intermediation, 694–696
- England and Wales, 101–110
  - Defective Premises Act 1972, 103–104
- facts, 101–102
- fault-based liability, 105–109
  - consumer protection, 107–109
  - occupiers' liability, 106–107
- private nuisance, 104–105
- product liability, 102–103
- Rylands v. Fletcher*, 105
- Estonian law, 971–978
  - classification of enrichment claims, 971–972
  - contractual claim for compensation, 974–978
    - exclusion of agent's compensation claim, 978
    - right of agent to compensation for termination of contract, 976–978
    - type of contract, 974–976
- Cour de Cassation* on 23 October 2012, 971–978
- enrichment claims, 971–973
  - absence of legal ground as a prerequisite for an, 972–973
  - classification of, 971–972
- Law of Obligations Act (LOA), 971–978

- EU Consumer law, 901–941
  - and behavioural science, 902–917
    - aims and scope, 911–913
    - anecdote apart, 915
    - article, structure, 917
    - average consumer challenge, 909–910
    - behavioural wisdom, 907
    - diversity of consumer protection measures, 907
    - field of consumer protection, 907
    - heroic consumer, 903
    - informational paradigm, 902
    - internal market, 906
    - law and behavioural economics, 914
    - manipulation/influence, 915
    - material distortion challenge, 908–909
    - proportionality test, 903
    - reasons to change, 904–905
    - substantive test, 910
    - time to change, 905–906
    - ‘weak’ theory, 916
    - word choice, 916–917
  - commitment, 927–932
    - influencing techniques, 929–930
    - legal relevance, 931–932
    - notion, 927–929
  - insights from psychology and evidence, 937–940
    - direct evidentiary use of
      - psychology studies, 937–939
    - presumptions, 939–940
  - legal and psychological categorization, 935–937
  - relevance of social psychology, unfair practices, 917–927
    - analytical guide to influence, 926–927
  - contrary to professional diligence, 919
  - marketing practices, 917–918
  - material distortion of consumer behaviour and misleading practices, 922–926
  - professional diligence, 919
  - puzzling text, 920
  - unfair practice, 921
  - value of psychological concepts for the interpretation of consumer law, 932–935
    - door-in-the-face technique, 933
    - European courts, 934
    - factors, 932
    - interpreting antitrust law, 933
    - psychological and legal typology, 935
- European supervision private law, 37–67
  - adjudication, 38
  - characteristics of, 50–61
    - administrative law, 50
    - business rules, financial institutions, 50
    - civil law jurisdictions, 57
    - English law, 58
    - ex ante* norm setting, 53–56
    - legislative framework, 50
    - monitoring and enforcement, 59–61
    - public authorities, 50
    - regulatory nature, 51–53
    - standards, 50
    - transformation, 50
  - and civil courts, 39
- Consumer Protection Cooperation Regulation, 39
- contract-related rules, 40
- development, 41, 66, 67
- enforcement of contract-related rules, 39
- ESMA, 40
- financial services, 41, 66
- harmonization, 67
- investment, 40
- MiFID, 39
- no strong link between private law and public enforcement in EU law, 46–50
  - Consumer Credit Directive, 48, 49
  - contract-related rules, 47

- Dutch Civil Code, 47, 49
  - legislative techniques, 50
  - Payment Services Directive, 46
  - public enforcement, 40
  - regulation, internal market, 38
  - relationship between traditional private law and supervision private law, 61–66
    - contract governance, 63–64
    - contract-related rules, 62
    - governance of contract law, 65
    - PELFSC, 65
    - preceding analysis, 61
  - strong link between private law and public enforcement in EU law, 42–46
    - European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA), 44, 45
    - financial services, 42
    - Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID), 42–44
    - Mortgage Credit Directive, 45
  - substantive rules, 38
- F
- France, 111–114
  - Franchise contract, 955–959
    - bankruptcy trustee, 956
    - cour de Cassation* on 23 October 2012, 955–959
    - distribution contracts, 958–959
    - Draft Common Frame of Reference (DCFR), 959
    - economically weaker party, 958
    - examined jurisdictions, legal scholars and courts, 958
    - goodwill compensation, 956–957
    - inherent, 958
    - SFR, 955–956
    - statutory regulation, 958
    - unjustified enrichment, 958
  - French case note, L'interdépendance contractuelle dans une opération incluant une location financière. A propos de deux arrêts de chambre mixte de la Cour de cassation, 253–260
- G
- German and Belgian laws, 393–438
    - acquisition in good faith, 413–417, 427–429
      - buyer-debtor's possession, 413
      - new Pledge Law, 416
      - non-possessory security interest, 414
      - section 932 II BGB, 415
      - transferor's ownership, 416
  - Belgian and German extensions, 404–405
  - businesses' legal innovations, 405–413
    - Belgian Supreme Court decision, 407
    - debtor's creditworthiness, 409
    - Federal Court of Justice, 410–411
    - floating charge-like security, 409
    - formality-free assignment, 408
    - leasing, 406
    - pool contracts, 412
    - revised bankruptcy act, 407
    - secured credit, 413
    - self-conflicted nature, 406
    - transparency, 405
  - business's value, 399
  - creditor's rights, 400
  - 'crystallization', 404
  - debtor's business, 403
  - economic analysis, 421–434
    - acquisition in good faith, 427–429
    - cost of extending available collateral, 427
    - floating charge, 429–434
    - good projects, 425–426
    - inefficient rent shifting, 422–425
  - floating charge, 429–434
    - assessment, 432–434
    - optimal risk-taking incentives, 431–432
    - positive and negative externalities, 430–431

- gatekeeping, 436–437
  - jurisprudence, 401
  - large scale/wrestling, 417–421
    - Belgian register, 418
    - Germany and Belgium, 417
    - professionals, 420
    - security agreements, 419
    - Uniform Commercial Code (UCC), 418
  - non-possessionary security interests, 398–421
    - acquisition in good faith, 413–417
    - businesses’ legal innovations, 405–413
    - floating charge, 399–405
    - large scale/wrestling, 417–421
    - persisting differences, 421
    - transparency v. extension of collateral, 398–399
  - Pledge Law, 401
  - privacy issues, 434–436
  - ‘prolonged’ retention/transfer, 402
  - registered floating charge, 396
  - trade-off between transparency, 395
  - German case note, Die Entscheidungen der Cour de Cassation vom 17. Mai 2013 aus deutscher Perspektive, 293–311
  - German contract law, 371–391
    - disturbance of foundation of contract, Section 313 German Civil Code, 380–390
      - devaluation of corresponding obligation, 387
    - disturbance/frustration of purpose, 388–389
    - higher threshold since incorporation in civil code, 390
    - hypothetical element, 384
    - legal consequences imposed by section 313, 385–386
    - monetary devaluation (inflation), 387
    - normative element, 384–385
    - objective alteration of circumstances, 382–383
    - subjective alteration of circumstances, 383–384
    - subjective realm, 389–390
    - unreasonableness of performance, 388
  - factual impossibility, Section 275(2)
  - German Civil Code, 374–380
  - debtor encountering hardship, 375–376
  - everything/nothing rule, 380
  - German Federal Supreme Court, 376
  - legal consequences, 379
  - one-sided nature of gross disproportion, 379–380
  - refuse performance, 375
  - requirements, determining gross disproportion, 377–378
  - force majeure, 372–373
  - hardship clauses, 373–374
  - Pacta sunt servanda/sanctity of contracts, 371
  - A German Perspective on the Concurrence of Claims in Contract and Unjust Enrichment (Case Note on Cour de Cassation 23 October 2012), 979–1004
  - Germany, 115–118
    - German house owners liability, 115–117
    - ‘Hammock’ case, 115
    - insurance cover, 117–118
- ## H
- Hammock* case, 89–92
  - Hammock-like cases, 153–156
    - civil law jurisdictions, 153–155
    - common law jurisdictions, 155–156
- ## I
- Intellectual property, human rights and competition, 169–181
    - access to public health, 178
    - BRICS countries, 181
    - case law and legal decisions, 172
    - copyright law, 175, 181

- decision-makers and access seekers, 173
- European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR), 170
- Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), 179
- freedom of information, health and education, 171
- international documents, 177
- international human rights, 174
- legal analysis, 171
- legal literature, 174
- monopolies and public interest, 169–170
- moral and material interests, 177
- and public interests, 176, 180
- review of literature and legislation, 176
- Internal market and consumer, 165–167
- International conference, 603
  - good morals, 603
  - public policy, 603
  - social justice, 603
- International Congress of Comparative Law, 341–344
  - AIDC and ERPL, 343–344
  - Articles, 344
  - classification, 341
  - contractualisation of family law, 342
  - english v. french, 343
  - foreign precedents in constitutional litigation, 342
  - International Academy of Comparative Law, 341
  - old continent and new jurisdictions, 343
  - personal guarantees between commercial law and consumer, 342
  - publication of reports, 343
  - ‘Young Academies’, 343
- Interpretation of contracts in
  - International Commercial Arbitration, 13–35
  - boilerplate clauses, 17–18
  - circulation of contracts, 27–28
  - contract drafting without regard to the governing law, 23–26
    - boilerplate clauses, 23
    - calculated risk, 24–26
  - contracts’ ambitions of self-sufficiency, 16–18
  - by courts, 14–16
  - implications for arbitration, 28–29
  - interpretation dilemma, 19–20
  - national laws, 18–19
  - shift of perspective from the negotiations phase, 26–27
  - transnational sources, 20–23
  - unitary system, 29–35
    - choice of law, 31
    - diversified interpretation and need for predictability, 30–31
    - diversity, 32
    - governing law, 31
    - imprinting, 32
    - languages, 32
    - legal framework for arbitration, 29–30
    - mandatory rules of third countries, 31
    - parties’ interests and trade usages, 32
    - selection of arbitrators, 33–35
    - Solomonic award, 33
    - transnational principles, 31
    - UPICC and PECL, 32
- Ireland, 119–129
  - Civil Liability Act 1961, 123
  - ‘Hammock’ case, 119
  - Irish solution, 125–128
  - negligence and fault liability in Irish law, 120–122
    - breach of that duty of care, 121
    - causation, 121–122
    - existence of a duty of care, 120
  - Occupiers’ Liability Act 1995, 124–125
- Italy, 131–141
  - damages by defective buildings, 131–135
    - civil code, 132

- contractor, 134
  - dominant opinion, 132
  - Dutch Supreme Court, 135
  - hammock doctrine, 131
  - legal provisions, 131
  - liability rules, 133
  - Dutch case, 135–139
    - construction destroys, 136
    - custodial duty, 139
    - field of liability insurance, 138
    - insurance coverage, 137
    - liability, 135
    - scope of application, 138
    - strict liability, 136
  - substantive and procedural rules, 139–141
- L
- Law of leases, 815–844
    - affordability, 828–832, 837
      - Article 18.5 of the Directive 2014/17/EU, 828
    - rent, 828–830
    - strict application, 828
    - for tenants, 842, 844
    - utilities and taxation of the property, 830–832
  - and deeper housing and financial crises, 816
  - efficiency, 818–822
    - contradictory positions, 818
    - flexibility, 821
    - housing market, 818
    - initial income (deposit), 820
    - landlords and tenants, black market, 818–820
    - social perception, 821–822
    - tenants, 820–821
  - eight European Countries in relation to their leases system, 838–841
  - EU Project TENLAW, 837
  - flexibility, 835–838
    - black market, 835
    - early, unilateral and free termination by tenant, 835–836
    - subletting by tenant, 837
      - for tenants, 842, 844
  - guarantees landlords, 822–827, 842
    - deposit, 822–824
    - eviction process, 826–827
    - floating charge over tenant's chattels, 824–826
  - homeownership in Europe, 815–844
  - intermediate tenures, 816
  - population by tenure status, 2011, 817
  - stability, 832–835, 837
    - legal nature of the lease contract, 833–834
    - open-ended lease contracts and compulsory minimum duration, 832–833
    - rights of first refusal, 834–835
    - for tenants, 843, 844
  - tenant's position, 827–837
    - affordability, 828–832
    - black market contracts, 827–828
    - flexibility, 835–837
    - stability, 832–835
  - TENLAW project (2012–2015), 817
  - Troika, 816
  - urban tenancy rates, 838
- Law of succession, 183–186
- Catalan Succession Law Reform, 184
  - English common law, 184
  - English-speaking audience, 185
  - human rights legislation, 184
  - International Society of Family Law, 183
- Lehman Brothers Client Money, 217–249
- CASS 7, 219
  - civil law protection of client accounts, 228–237
    - client money accounts of investment firms, 234–236
    - dominium directum and dominium utile*, 229
    - fiduciary ownership, 230–233
    - indirect representation, 233–234
    - investment firm, 236–237
  - Legal scholars, 230

- quality account/third-party account, 228
  - client assets, 237–243
    - exception of mixed funds, 239–241
    - failure to segregate client money, 237–238
    - mixed funds in Germany, 241–242
    - principle of specificity, 238–239
  - client money pool (CMP), 218
  - issues, 220
  - judgment, 220–224
    - CASS 7, 220–221
    - CMP dependent, 221–223
    - non-segregated house accounts, 223–224
  - Lehman Brothers International (Europe) (LBIE), 217–249
  - Market in Financial Instruments Directive 2004/39/EC (MiFID), 219, 224–228
    - CASS 7, 224
    - European Parliament, 225
    - home Member State, 225–226
    - inter alia*, 226
    - Interpretation of the MiFID, 244
    - national implementations, 226–228
    - open system, 248–249
    - segregated client money, 246–248
    - segregation, 245–246
  - Phoenix insolvency, 241–242
  - substantial inflows and outflows, 220
  - Supreme Court's decision, 219
  - Liability for defective immovable property, 89–92
  - L'interdépendance contractuelle*, 251–252
  - Loss of clientele, 1029–1037
    - contractual relationship exists, 1032–1034
      - Cour de Cassation*, 1032
      - governed by provisions, payment, 1033
      - undue payment/unjustified enrichment, 1034
    - prospective statutory regulation, 1034–1035
    - termination abuse instead of unjustified enrichment, 1035–1037
    - unjust enrichment under Italian law, 1029–1032
      - defendant's enrichment, 1030–1031
      - elements, 1029
      - lack of justification, 1031–1032
      - tort law, 1030
  - Loss of small chances in (Belgian and French) Tort Law, 1065–1068
  - Belgian success, 1065–1067
  - requirements for application, 1067–1068
- P
- Postclassical lawyering?, 483–484
  - Public policy and good morals in
    - European contract law, 611–617
    - comparative legal scholars, 612
    - concept of good faith, 616
    - concept of gute Sitten, 616–617
    - concept of
      - interpretation/concretization, 614–615
    - ethical behavior, 614
    - European civil code projects, 612
    - Fallgruppen*, 615–616
    - illegality and immorality, 612
    - independent European Private Law, 615
    - Italian jurisprudence, 616
    - meaning/definition, 613
    - policy of the law, 614
    - Regulations/Directives, 616
    - Roman law, 614
    - social power, 617
    - subjective and objective theory of interpretation, 613–614
  - Public policy exceptions in European private law, 605–610
    - English and Dutch law, 610
    - financial services sector, 609
    - Groningen Centre for Law and Governance (GCL), 606

- interpretation of general clauses of
    - public policy and good morals in
      - European contract law, 608–609
  - Manifesto on Social Justice in
    - European Contract Law, 609
  - Netherlands Institute for Law and
    - Governance (NILG), 606
  - project objectives, 607–608
  - social network or e-market, 609–610
  - three types of public policy
    - exceptions, 606–607
  - Public policy on contract
    - interpretation, 641–662
  - advantages, 657–661
  - disadvantages, 657–661
  - doctrinal influence of public policy on
    - contract interpretation, 643–654
      - Draft Common Code of Reference
        - 2009 (DCFR), 645
      - formalism and anti-formalism,
        - 644
      - good faith, 649–651
      - nature and purpose of the
        - contract, 647–649
      - parties' intentions, 644
      - preference of interpretations not
        - infringing public policy, 652–653
      - special rules of interpretation,
        - 653–654
      - standard of a reasonable person,
        - 645–647
      - unclear/contradictory/contract
        - contains gaps, 643
      - usages, 651–652
    - Draft Common Code of Reference
      - 2009 (DCFR), 645
    - factual influence, 654–656
    - opportunities of interference, 642
- Public regulation and protection of
  - weaker party in contract law,
    - 663–683
  - Consumer Credit Directive, 666
  - European financial supervisory
    - authority, 668
  - European Securities and Markets
    - Authority (ESMA), 668
  - European supervision private law,
    - 667
  - ex ante* regulatory rules, 665
  - ex ante* supervision rules, 682
  - ex post* protection, 665, 682
  - field of financial services, 663–683
  - financial transactions, 666–667
  - growing realization, 664
  - laissez faire* and caveat emptor, 664
  - legislative architecture, 667
  - Markets in Financial Instruments
    - Directive-I (MiFID I), 667, 668
  - Mortgage Credit Directive, 666–667
  - Payment Services Directive, 666
  - principle of regard and fairness,
    - 665
  - private parties, 682
  - public regulation has no spillover
    - effects in contract law, 668–671
      - Dutch Financial Supervision Act
        - (Wet financieel toezicht (Wft))
          - 2006, 669–670
      - EU Directive, 669
      - regulatory protection to
        - consumers, 669
      - separation model, 669
      - supervision framework, 668–669
      - UK Financial Conduct Authority's
        - Conduct of Business Sourcebook
          - (COBS), 670–671
  - public regulation has spillover effects
    - in contract law, 671–676
      - maximum standards of protection
        - in contract law, 671–674
      - minimum standards of protection
        - in contract law, 674–676
    - open-ended concepts and norms,
      - 671
  - rise of public regulation has broader
    - implications for contract law,
      - 677–681
    - incoherent approach, 677–679
    - policy-oriented legal reasoning in
      - contract law, 679–682
    - society-oriented contract law,
      - 664–665

R

Rapport du colloque : Marge d'appréciation du juge national dans le cadre du renvoi préjudiciel, dialogue des juges et balance des intérêts, 559–576

Regulatory impact assessments (RIAs), 69–87

blanket clauses, 82, 87

CESL, 83

consumer protection, 70

harmonization, 82

IAB, 83

internal market, 71

national parliaments, 85

private law acquis, 71–81, 84–87

ambiguous phrases/blanket clauses, 71

CESL, 79

CJEU, 71–72

DCFR, 77

harmonization, 73–74, 86

legal framework, 81

need to reconsider regulatory choices through RIAs, 78–81 obligation of national courts, 74 poor regulatory choices, 75–78 transparent decision-making, 70 vertical legislative reform, 81

S

Swiss and Turkish Tort Laws, 879–897 application of the liability for constructions, 890–892

general clause of strict liability for abnormally dangerous activities, 892–895

law of obligations, 883

Manifesto of Neuchâtel, 884 radical modernization, 881

Republic of Turkey, 881

Swiss Civil Code (SCC), 880–882

Swiss Federal Supreme Court, 897

Turkish Civil Code, 882, 883

Turkish Code of Obligations (TCO), 880

Turkish Court decisions, 883

Turkish legislator, 884

Turkish Supreme Court, 896

vicarious liability for organizational defects in enterprises, 887–890

diligence liability, 889

Draft Common Frame of Reference
(DCFR), 890

Turkish Code of Obligations
(TCO), 888

Widmer/Wessner Project, 885–887,
895–896

Swiss Law of Obligations, 1–12

assessment, 9–10

balance, 10–11

change of circumstances, 4

code for the ordinary citizen, 2–3 conference reports, 11

contractual imbalance, 5

disgorgement, 6–7

the Hammock (case note), 11 immaterial damages, 5–6

languages, 8–9

loss of holidays, 6

methodology, 9

OR2020, 1–2

outcomes, private academic research, 3–4

performance by third party, 7

recodification, 8 sentimental value of pets, 5 termination of long-term contracts, 7 unfair contract terms, 7–8 withdrawal period, 4

T

13th Annual Conference on European Tort Law (ETL), 787–806

Acting Director of the Institute for European Tort Law, 803

auto-complete case, 793–794 car insurance law in Estonia, 792 case of misdiagnosis from Poland, 798–799

claimant and defendant, Italy, 796 comparative and economic analyses of liability for online anonymous speech, 804–805

 conference’s national reports, 789
 Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU), 803
 Croatian Protection of the Environment Act, Croatia, 791 cyber-tort, 804 cyber-trespass, 805 debt collector, Ireland, 795–796
 Dutch tort law, 798 environmental pollution, Latvia, 796–797
 ‘Gewinnabschopfung’ (disgorgement of profits) causes, 788–789
 Google’s duty, 794
 Guerilla Warfare and Promotion of Cyber Privacy, 805–806
 Hungarian legal system, 795 insurers’ recourse claims against insured tortfeasors, Bulgaria, 790 international consequences of financial crisis, 802–803
Journal of European Tort Law
   (JETL), 806
 Koziol’s argument, 787–788 liability in respect of Thalidomide in Spain, 801
 liability of principals in agency,
   Belgium, 790
 liability of spouses for damage cause, Czech Republic, 791 national jurisdiction, Switzerland, 802
 Norwegian Patient Injury
   Compensation Act (2001/53), 798 obnoxious criminal scheme in Lithuania, 797
 OGH, 789–790
 personal injury in Slovakia, 800–801 public authority expropriates property from another public authority, Slovenian, 801 public liability, 803 Romania’s shift to western democracy, 799–800
 Scottish case, pursuer and defenders’ employees, 800
 sexual abuse of minor in Malta,
   797–798
 Supreme Court case from Sweden,
   801–802
 US case law employing, 805 value-added tax (VAT), 793
Woodland v. Essex County Council
   (2013), 792 workplace injuries, Denmark, 791–792
 wrongful birth, Greece, 794–795 wrongful life arose in Portugal,
   799
 Third-party litigation funding (TPLF), 439–468 absence of legal hurdles, 465–467 advantages and disadvantages, 448–451 arguments advanced by detractors, 450–451 arguments advanced by proponents, 448–450
   American and English rule, 440
   assignment of claims, 447
   ATE and civil justice system, 441 civil law systems, 457–460
     French law, 460
     Germany, 458–459
     Switzerland, 459
   common law systems, 451–457
     Australia, 451–453
     England and Wales, 455–457
     United States, 453–455
   definition, 442–443
   insurance arrangements, 444–445
   lawyer funding, 445–447 novel and promising institution, 441 origins and historical obstacles, 448 promising prospects, 463–465 self-funding, 443–444
   Spain, 460–463

- allocation of litigations costs under the Spanish Civil Procedure, 461
  - assignment of claims, 463
  - civil law jurisdictions, 460
  - development of TPLF in Spain, 463–465
  - insurance arrangements, 462
  - lawyer funding, 462
  - self-funding, 461
  - state legal aid, 461–462
  - TPLF arrangements, 463
  - state legal aid, 444
  - state of affairs, 451–460
    - civil law systems, 457–460
    - common law systems, 451–457
  - 18th Ius Commune Conference, 577–582
  - contract enforcement across borders, 577–579
  - cultural dimensions of contracts, 579–580
  - empirical research in legislative practice, 580–582
  - information and communication technologies (ICT), 579
  - Maastricht European Private Law Institute (M-EPLI), 577
  - Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) countries, 578
  - private contract enforcement
    - institution (private CEI), 578
  - public contract enforcement
    - institution (public CEI), 578
  - Tijdschrift Voor Privaatrecht (TPR)*, 195–199
  - Belgian law faculties, 197
  - Collective Mass Settlement Act, 196
  - Croatia and European Private Law, 199
  - Dutch-speaking part, 195
  - and ERPL, 195
  - European Court of Justice, 199
  - family, 198
  - French Cour de cassation, 199
  - French-speaking member, 196
  - fringe benefits, 197
  - intellectual property, 196
  - Marcel Storme, 198–199
  - Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU), 201–216
    - advertising self-regulation, 213–215
    - Articles 34 and 35 TFEU, 204
    - court's approach, 210–213
      - De Agostini & TV-Shop*, 212
      - products and commodification, 212
      - 'public authority', 210–211
      - 'servitisation of products', 211
    - freedom of goods, 207–210
      - Articles 34 and 35, 208
      - Commission v. France*, 209–210
      - Dansk Supermarked*, 208
      - effet utile* reasoning, 207
      - 'horizontal direct effect', 207
      - 'Member State', 209
    - freedom of services, 204–207
      - Articles 45 and 56 TFEU, 206
      - Article 18 TFEU, 206
      - bilateral and multilateral agreements, 206
      - cross-border services, 205
      - Internal Market, 204–205
      - jurisprudence, 204
      - Viking* and Laval cases, 205
    - goods and services, 203
    - horizontal direct effect, 204–210
      - freedom of goods, 207–210
      - freedom of services, 204–207
    - Justice of the European Union, 202
    - 'servitisation of products', 203
- U
- United Kingdom of Regulation (EU) No. 650/2012, 847–878
    - Articles 1 and 2 of Protocol No. 21, 848
  - categorization of states for the purpose of Rome IV, 849–851
  - choice of law has been exercised by the deceased, 866–872

Council Regulation 44/2001 (EC) of 22 December 2000, 848	Rome IV, 849–853, 857–861
cross-border successions, 877	application, 857
European private international law	categorization of states for purpose of, 849–851
harmonization, 877	compliant Member State, 857
hybridity, 853–856	domiciled and habitually resident, 857 measure of party autonomy, 876	habitual residence, primary connecting factor, 858–859
no choice of law has been exercised by the deceased, 861–866	interpretation of law-the Renvoi Dimension, 859–861
non-compliant Member States, 876	interpretation of Member State, 858
précis of Rome IV, 851–853	non-compliant Member States, 857 recognition, enforceability and enforcement of decisions, 872–876	précis of, 851–853 backward glance-clawback, 874–875
Chapter IV of Rome IV, 872–875
European Certificate of Succession, 875–876	V
	Vulture funds, 813