

1997 INDEX

- Austria, 1–8
civil liability, 4–5 command and control, 3–4 environmental civil liability schemes, 1–8 proposal for system of civil liability, 5–7 system of environmental law, 2–3
- Belgium, 165–73
competences of Communities, 165–73
competences of Communities to authorize governments to grant subsidies, 171–3 different language areas introduction of principle of territoriality, 166–7 exclusivity of allocation of competences, 169–71 judgment of 3 October 1996, 171–3 principle of exclusivity revisited, 165–73 principle of territoriality as pillar of Belgian federal state, 167–9 territorial limits of Communities, 169–71
- Conceptual foundations of human rights, 261–82
apostates, 278–81
comparative perspective, 261–82
definitional debate, 262–4 divine, 270–3 duty-based, 273–6
foundations in Western tradition, 264–5 hierarchical entitlements, 278–81
Islam, human rights and individualism, 276–8 Islamic, 270–3 nature of human rights, and, 262–4 non-Muslim minorities, 278–81 rights-based, 273–6 secular, 270–3
sources of human rights in Islam, 265–70
Western, 270–3
women, 278–81
- Denmark, 295–300
judicial review, 295–300 constitutional history, 295–6 contemporary law, 296–300 legal standing, 297–9 legislative acts, of, 295–300 standard, 299–300
- Directives, 527–40
alternative solution, 538–9 direct applicability, 527–9 direct effect, 529–30
ECJ on application of, 535–6 evaluation of direct effect, 537–8 evaluation of first stage, 532–3 first stage: effect of treaty obligations, 531–2 national courts on application of, 533–5 no direct effect, 527–40
- EC procurement policy, 389–411 achieving objectives through regulatory system, 400–4 assessment, 389–411
award procedures: need for new approach, 405–10 Commission's Green Paper, and, 389–411 effect of commercial procurement, 396–400 framework of Commission's Green Paper, 394–6 fundamentals, 396–400
implications of Green Paper for Community's strategy, 404 rules, 391–4
- Emanation of the state, 329–38
background to problem, 330–2
NUT case, 332–5
structure of British education system, and, 332–5
- England, 461–73
constitutional reform under new Labour government, 461–73

England, contd.

- decentralization, 467–9
- devolution of power, 467–9
- human rights protection, 469–73
- more efficient Parliamentary process, 464–7
- Parliament, 462–7
- privileges of Parliament, 462–4
- European Cartel Office, 223–34
 - amendment of EC Treaty, and, 232–4
 - appointment of staff, 231–2
 - Article 235 EC as legal basis, 232–3
 - case against, 227–8
 - case for, 223–4
 - delays, and, 224
 - duties, 229–30
 - independence, 225–7
 - internal organization, 230–1
 - legal relationship to Commission, 232
 - need for, 224–8
 - politicization of competition decisions, and, 225
 - structure, 229–32
 - transparency, and, 224–5
- EU citizenship, 413–39
 - access, 424–38
 - general non-discrimination clause, 425–30
 - identity, 424–38
 - IGC, and, 413–39
 - open government, and, 430–8
 - problematic heritage, 418–24
 - rights, 424–38
 - transparency, and, 430–8
 - Treaty of Maastricht, after, 415–18
- European Court of Human Rights, 155–64
 - access to court to challenge legality of detention, 157–8
 - anonymous witnesses – fair trial, 158–9
 - detention of asylum seekers, 156–7
 - family life: dependant immigration, 160–1
 - freedom of association: access to court to challenge trade union boycott measures, 162–4
 - freedom of speech: disclosure order on journalist, 161–2
 - right to silence – fair trial, 159–60

European Court of Justice

- BT*: incorrect transposition of Directive, 126–7
- Factortame* litigation, 120–6
 - application of test to facts, 123–4
 - background, 120
 - bad faith, 124–5
 - Factortame* No. 1, 120–1
 - Factortame* No. 2, 120–1
 - Factortame* III, 121–3
 - fault, 124–5
 - relationship with Francovich, 125–6
 - Schoppenstedt* test, 122–3
- Hedley Lomas*: refusal of export licences, 127–8
- liability for conflicting national law, 120–6
- Member State liability, 117–45
 - Article 215 jurisprudence, and, 129–32
 - case law, 140
 - causation, 129
 - Community liability, and, 128–32
 - damage, 129
 - earlier case law, 117–18
 - effectiveness, 136–8
 - extension of Factortame III test, 142–3
 - Francovich* judgment, 118–19
 - individual liability under Factortame III, 142–3
 - merits of Factortame III test, and, 132–4
 - need for harmonizing legislation, 141–2
 - no new remedies, 138–9
 - order in which methods of enforcement should be used, 143–5
 - potential effect on national courts, 141
 - potential loophole, 139
 - recent case law, 120
 - reclaiming damages, 143
 - remedy, award of, 135–9
 - wrongful acts, 129–32
- European integration and UK constitutional law, 57–91
 - application of European law, 86–90
 - Bank of England, 84–6
 - Community, 86–90
 - constitutional adjudication, 73–8
 - constitutional background, 57–60

- European integration and UK constitutional law contd.
 executive and Parliament, 62–5 hierarchy, 86–90
 litigation, 65–7
 mode of interpretation of Community law and obligations, 78–84 monetary policy, 84–6 national security, 70–3
 Parliament and accession, 61–2 parliamentary sovereignty, 60–1
Rees Mogg litigation, 67–70 sovereignty, 86–90
 substantive constitutional law, 73–8 treaties, 65–7
 Treaty on European Union, 67–70
- European Ombudsman, 351–61, 587–605 administrative activity, 353–4 admissibility, 590–1
 Article 155 cases, 602–3
 Article 169 cases, 602–3
 competition, 601–2 complaints to, 589–92
 contractual disputes, 600–1 critical remark, 597–600 decision, 595–600
 enhancing accountability of Community institutions and bodies, 587–605 friendly settlement, 597
 IGC, and, 361
 investigation of maladministration, 592–5 maladministration, 354 mandate, 589–90
 no further inquiries justified, 596 no grounds for inquiry, 591–2 no maladministration found, 596–7 own initiative inquiries, 603–4 political activity, 353–4 powers sufficient, whether, 357–8 recommendation, 597–600
 recruitment, 601
 remit too limited, whether, 359–61 right of access to information, 600–1 right to complain, 351–3 role, 587–605
 rules on public access to documents, 355–6 secrets of ‘Guardian of the Treaties’, 356 sectoral policies, 601–2 staff matters, 601
 supervision of discretionary power, 358–9 when to take initiatives, 354–5
- Finland, 45–6
 Constitution 2000 Project, 49–53 present system of constitutional legislation, 45–7 reform of constitution, 45–56 effects on administrative law, 53–6 main trends, 49–53
 measures, 47–9
- France, 474–84
Conseil constitutionnel, 485–8 recent developments, 485–8 independent administrative authorities, 474–84 areas of intervention, 475–7 communications, 476–7 information, 476–7
 jurisdiction of review, 479–80
 key issues, 477–81
 power to impose sanctions, 477–8 power to make rules, 478–9 protecting citizens, 475–6 regulating economy, 476 structures to ensure independence, 480 recent example: l’Autorité de Régulation des Télécommunications, 481–4
- German Länder and European integration, 607–34 binding instructions of Council of States, 628–30 consent requirement for integration statutes, 627–8 constitutional limits to strengthening Council of States, 625–7 no real compensation, 625
 separation of powers, 625–6 strengthening Council of States as compromise between two competing constitutional principles, 627 division of Germany into Länder, 609–11 Europe on three levels, 618–21
 European Committee of the Regions, 632–4

- German Länder and European integration, contd.
- European Union as quasi-federal entity, 611–13
 - European Union and federalist concerns, 630–4
 - federal principle of good faith, 630–1
 - subsidiarity, principle of, 631–2
 - information rights of Council of States, 628
 - Länder* delegates representing Federal Republic of Germany in Council of Ministers, 623–4
 - loss of competences through Community legislation, 615–18
 - federation as trustee of Länder, 617–18
 - loss legitimized by Article 23, 615–17
 - more powerful Council of States compensating for loss of Länder competences, 625–30
 - new functions, 618–21
 - offices at European Union, 621–4
 - participation rights of Council of States, 628
 - ‘Third Level’, 611–15
 - weak position of third level entities, 613–15
- Germany, 489–500
- border guard shootings, 489–91
 - commercial speech: advertising
 - restrictions for pharmacies, 492–4
 - elections to Bundestag in 1994, 496–97
 - evaluation procedure of Bundestag against Mr Gysi, 497–8
 - negative freedom of expression, 491–2
 - obligatory warnings on cigarette packs, 491–2
 - planning permission by Act of Parliament, 498–500
 - protection against retroactive legislation as property interest, 494–5
 - public law cases 1996/97, 489–500
- Greece, 174–9
- basic features of administrative law, 176–9
 - constitutional framework, 174–6
 - public law, 174–9
- Hungary, 9–16
- constitutional renaissance, 9–16
 - drafting new constitution, 15–16
 - historical background of constitutional progress, 10–12
 - most important provisions of current constitution, 12–15
- Influence of European legal concepts on UK law, 561–86
- proportionality, 561–86
 - proportionality as distinct ground of review, 567–73
 - proportionality as explicit or implicit ground of domestic judicial review, 573–7
 - proportionality as ground of review in EC law contexts within domestic law, 577–84
 - Wednesbury* and proportionality review, 563–6
 - Wednesbury* unreasonableness, 561–86
- Ireland, 180–91
- Constitution, 441–50
 - right to die, 235–60
 - incompetent patient, position of, 244–6
 - jurisdiction of courts, 247–9
 - right to personal autonomy, 243–4
 - rights of family, 249
 - sanctity of life, 238–43
 - substantive issue, 250–8
 - Wardship* case, 246–7
- Supreme Court: major developments
- 1995–96, 180–91
 - abortion information, 182–4
 - aftermath of McKenna judgment, 180–2
 - development of proportionality doctrine, 186–90
 - emigrant voting, 184–5
 - Report of Constitution Review Group, 185
 - right to bail, 190–1
 - Sixteenth Amendment of Constitution, 190–1
- Israel, 301–12
- basic law in first year, 301–12
 - cohabitation, 307
 - direct election of Prime Minister, 301–12

Israel, contd.

- dismissal of Prime Minister, 302–5
- early elections, 302–5
- election of Prime Minister, 302–5
- innovations in Basic Law, 307–9
- new Basic Law, 302–9
 - influence on party system, 309–11
 - lessons to be learned from first experience, 309–12

- non-confidence vote, 302–5
- powers of Prime Minister, 306

Italian independent administrative authorities, 33–44

- comparison with American model, 38–43
- development, 34–7
- peculiarity, 38–43
- transplantation of American experience, 33–44

Italy, 501–12

- administrative reform, 502–3
 - Committee's proposals, 509–12
 - perspectives, 505, 512
 - procedure, 507–9
- Law No. 59 of 1997, 503–5
- new perspectives on administrative and constitutional reform, 501–12
- revision of Constitution, 506–7

Migration between EU and Hungary, 363–87

- Dublin Convention, 377
- evaluation of Hungarian position, 386–7
- evolving new regime for transborder movements, 371–7
- factual foundations, 364–7
- Hungary's special role, 367–71
- legal foundations, 364–7
- proposed Convention on Crossing External Frontiers of Member States, 375–6
- Schengen Agreement, 371–5
- setting, 364–71
- statistics, 365–366, 369
- Treaty on European Union, 377–86
 - cooperation concerning Article K, 380–1
 - efforts to deal with issues of common concern, 381–6
 - movement of third-country nationals, 377–80

- national action, 381–6

Netherlands, 313–21

- Executive, 317–19
 - judiciary, 320
 - legislative power, 313–17
 - legislature, 320
 - Parliament, 317–19
 - separation of powers, 313–21
- Northern Ireland, 513–18*
- Constitution Act 1973, 515–17
 - European dimension, 517–18
 - protection of civil liberties, 513–18

Poland, 17–25

- changes in structure of economic ministers, 21–3
- changes in structure of government administration, 20–1
- group of Acts concerning reform of centre, 19–20
- high position of European integrity, 23
- long road to reconstruction of administration, 17–19
- reconstruction, 23–4
- reform of economic and administrative centre of government, 17–25
- reorganization, 23–4
- strengthening position of Prime Minister, 24–5

Private Finance Initiative, 519–25

- background, 520
- examples of projects, 521–2
- government by contract, 519–25
- history, 520
- key features, 523–4
- nature of, 520–1
- new Labour Government's approach, 524
- published guidance, 525
- rated public debt finance, 524
- scope, 522–3

Reason-giving in administrative law, 213–22

- EC law approach, 216–18
- English law approach, 214–16
- inconsistency argument, 218–20
- principled solution for English law, 220–1

- Scotland, 322–7
 - judicial review, 322–7
 - procedure, 325–6
 - use, 323–5
- South Africa, 541–59
 - common law of administrative law until 1993, 541–9
 - constitutionalization of administrative law, 541–59
 - course of negotiations, 553
 - drafting of final Constitution, 557–9
 - judicial interpretation, 557–9
 - review of proposals at negotiations, 550–3
 - African National Congress, 550
 - Breakwater Declaration, 552
 - Charter for Social Justice, 552
 - Democratic Party, 552
 - Namibian Constitution, 551
 - South African Government, 550–1
 - South African Law Commission Interim Report, 551
 - review of section 24, 554–7
- Spain, 192–9
 - Penal Code 1995, 192–9
 - protection of the environment, 192–9
- Sweden, 26–32
 - administrative law in a state of change, 26–32
- Telecommunications, regulation of, 93–115
 - background, 93–5
 - developing EU framework, 93–115
 - harmonization measures, 100–6
 - impact of EU developments on British regulatory framework, 106–15
 - liberalization, 96–100
 - ONP, 100–6
- UK Broadcasting Act 1996, 201–12
 - controlling conditional access, 206–7
 - digital terrestrial television, 202–3
 - licensing multiplex, 203–5
 - revised rules on cross-media holdings, 207–9
- WWF (UK) v. Commission of the European Communities*, 339–50
 - factual background, 341–2
 - findings of Court of First Instance, 344–6
 - first plea, infringement of Decision 94/90 and Code of Conduct, 342–4
 - legal arguments of parties, 342–6
 - second plea: infringement of Article 190 EC Treaty, 344